

Ellen Owen

Education Designer, Professional Development, The Law Society of NSW

Ellen is the Education Designer at the Law Society of New South Wales. Ellen has extensive experience working with lawyers on their professional development in a vast array of areas and at all levels. She has a Bachelor of Education in Adult Education and a Masters in Applied Linguistics. Prior to joining the Law Society, Ellen held a variety of learning and development positions in law firms and has also worked as a coach and consultant within and outside of the legal profession.

Ellen has a particular interest in plain language and clear writing.

THE LAW SOCIETY
OF NEW SOUTH WALES